ISBNPA2025 - Scientific Program

With nearly record-breaking regular abstract submissions totaling 775, we are now fully engaged in the review process—THANK YOU, REVIEWERS! Soon, we will begin crafting an exciting scientific program for what promises to be a packed meeting. Here's a glimpse of the scientific program:

1. Four Keynote Addresses
2. Four "One to Watch" Plenary Sessions
3. Fifty-eight Symposia
4. Eight to Ten Dare2Share Sessions
5. Nine Workshops
6. Up to Twelve Parallel Sessions, including:
 - Thirty-three 12-minute Oral Sessions featuring 198 abstracts
 - Twenty 5-minute Short Oral Sessions showcasing 260 abstracts
 - Two or possibly three Poster Sessions with approximately 250 posters

Additionally, attendees can look forward to an unforgettable experience at the Auckland Museum, complete with cultural activities, the ISBNPA dinner, and a lively ISBNPA dance floor.

Registration is set to open this week—visit our Annual Meeting Website for more details and updates.

Late-Breaking call is now open

We invite you to submit your outstanding research to our late-breaking call for submissions. The submission window is open from December 13, 2024, to February 21, 2025. Late-breaking

ISBNPA Elections

The results have been finalized and validated by both the Nominations Committee and the Executive Committee. The three members-at-large positions have been filled by:

- Shilpa Dogra
- Inês Santos
- Carol Maher

More details about the results of the election are available HERE.

ISBNPA New Strategic Plan

The ISBNPA Executive Committee has been diligently evaluating our current strategic plan while preparing for the next phase. We are thrilled to collaborate with the Oro Group Mentoring team. The new strategic plan is set to be unveiled in June 2025, but we couldn't wait to share a sneak peek of some exciting initiatives we're considering. These new directions will complement our existing four strategic initiatives, rather than replace them, as the evaluation of our current plan has yielded positive results.

1. Prioritizing and Contributing to Societal Impact
2. Amplifying Interdisciplinary Collaboration and Mentoring for ECR
3. Enhancing Interactions With LMIC

Feel free to reach out to Antônio Palmeira if you want to comment or contribute to the development of the new strategic plan.
