E-blast

This is a short one

Late-breaking poster submissions deadline is on March 4

We are just two days away, until March 4th, from the submission deadline for late-breaking abstracts for ISBNPA2026. Please note that these presentations can only be submitted for the poster format.

Join the 1500 accepted presentations and over 200 late-breaking poster submissions that we have received until this past Friday.

Make sure you send ISBNPA your best research, even if it is still "in the works"; the late-breaking are exactly for that, for those ideas, protocols or incomplete data analysis that you are currently working on. By presenting them at ISBNPA you will have a wonderful community that will help you think deeply about your work And maybe find new ways to improve it.
