ISBNPA 2027: Call for Submissions Open

ISBNPA
Advancing Behavior Change Science
HALIFAX, CANADA
JUNE 16-19, 2027

Submit your best research for ISBNPA 2027 in Halifax, Canada!

The ISBNPA 2027 Annual Meeting in Halifax, Canada is now accepting submissions, and we encourage all CPM SIG members to showcase their latest research.

The deadline for regular submissions is November 18, 2026, with late-breaking abstract submissions (poster presentations only) opening in January.

Regular abstract

Submit your work for consideration as an oral or poster presentation.

Regular Symposium or Debate Symposium

Bring together colleagues around a shared topic through a symposium or debate symposium. These sessions include multiple presentations organized around a common theme and are an excellent opportunity to showcase collaborative work within the CPM SIG and across ISBNPA.

When submitting a symposium, you will be asked to select a primary and secondary SIG to support the review process.

ISBNPA 2027 is also accepting submissions for:

- Workshops
- Satellite Meetings
- Dare2Share Sessions

Are you planning a symposium or debate symposium for ISBNPA 2027?

The CPM SIG would love to hear from you. If you're looking for collaborators, presenters, or feedback on a potential session, reach out to isbnpa.cpm@gmail.com and we'll help connect you with other interested SIG members.

For complete submission guidelines and details on all conference opportunities, visit the ISBNPA 2027 conference website.

Don't miss this opportunity to connect with the CPM community and share your work on an international stage in Halifax!

Upcoming Webinar

Webinar Co-Hosted by ISBNPA Cancer Prevention and Management SIG, SBM's Cancer SIG, SBM's Cancer SIG, and UKSBM

Title:
Improving Survivorship Outcomes in AYAs Diagnosed with Cancer and the Complementary Role of Physical Activity and Nutrition

When:
October 14, 2026, 1400 UTC

Abstract: This webinar will explore how physical activity and nutrition can work together to enhance health, quality of life, and survivorship outcomes in adolescents and young adults (AYAs) diagnosed with cancer. Drawing on emerging evidence and clinical experience, speakers will discuss how physical activity and dietary strategies can help manage treatment-related side effects, support physical and mental well-being, and reduce long-term health risks in this population. The session will also highlight practical, age-appropriate approaches to integrating movement and healthy eating into survivorship care, considering the unique developmental, social, and psychosocial needs of AYAs.

Who:
Speakers:
Erin Coffman PhD, Postdoctoral Fellow, Wake Forest University School of Medicine
Kate Law PhD, Research Fellow and Pediatric Nurse Specialist, University of Manchester

Moderators:
Emily Hill PhD, RDN, Assistant Professor, University of Colorado Anschutz
Alyssa Fenech, PhD, Postdoctoral Fellow, Massachusetts General Hospital
